

Social Justice & the TB Epidemic: it is time to invest in human rights

FRIDAY 18 FEBRUARY 2022

1:30PM - 2:30PM CET

Social Justice demands that everyone can access the health services they need, irrespective of where they live or how they identify.

A recent analysis of 20 national assessments of human rights barriers to TB services, provides us with unprecedented evidence for the human rights and gender barriers for people affected by TB in accessing the TB services they need.

As part of International Social Justice Day 2022, Stop TB Partnership, the Global Fund Communities Delegation and the O'Neill Institute for Global & National Health Law invite you to join global health and human rights leaders to reflect on how best to leverage this new evidence to scale up investments in TB and human rights.

Chaired by
Dr. Lucica Ditiu, Stop TB Partnership
and
Maurine Murenga, Global Fund
Communities Delegation

Speakers to be confirmed

REGISTRATION:

<https://tinyurl.com/stpsjd>

Stop TB Partnership

O'NEILL
INSTITUTE
FOR NATIONAL & GLOBAL HEALTH LAW
GEORGETOWN LAW

Communities Delegation
to the Board of the Global Fund to fight AIDS, Tuberculosis and Malaria